

Creating Service Credentials

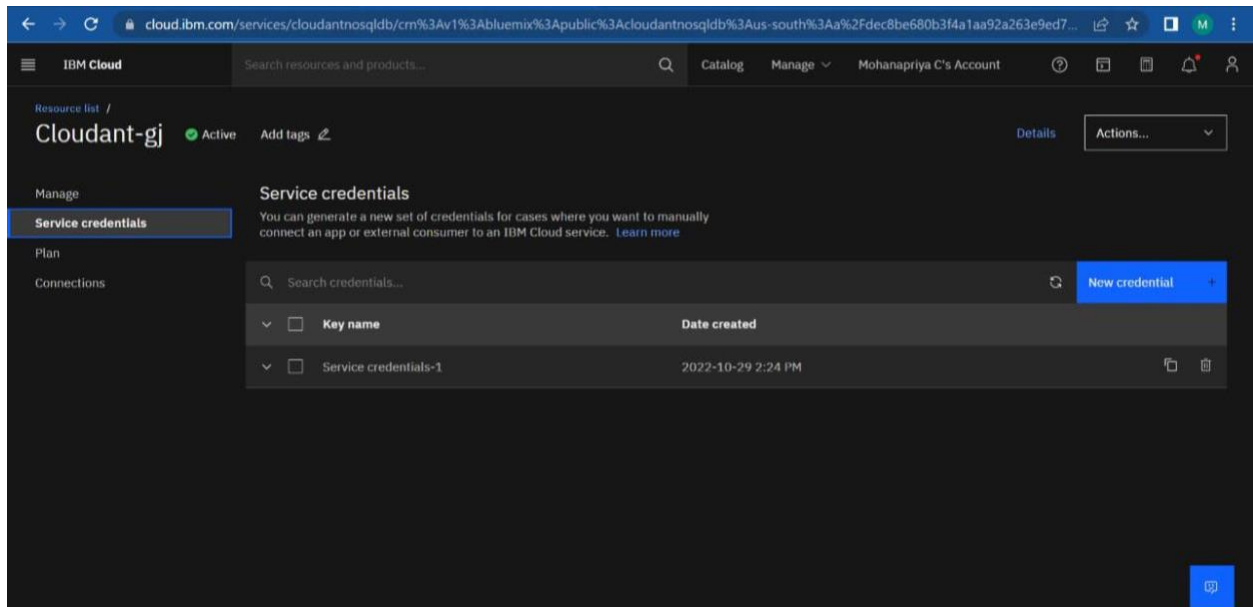

To create the connection information that your application needs to connect to the instance, click New credential.

Enter the name and accept the manager role the service ID will be generated automatically to create the credentials.

To see the credentials that are required to access the service, click the chevron.

The details for the service credentials will be opened.

